HENRY MEYER, about 50 years of age, engaged as a hostler at Governor Noyes' residence, on Walker street, near Hopkins Park, on Mount Auburn, died quite suddenly, about five o'clock last evening. He had been on a protracted spree for the past few days, which is supposed to have superinduced his death. The decessed leaves a wife and children. Coroner Maley was notified and held an inquest.

OFFICER WOODYARD, this forenoon, arrested two boys agad respectively nineteen and sixteen years, named John Kareney and Edward O'Brien, on the charge of horse stealing. Mr. Fox, at whose stable on East Fifth street they offered the horse for sale, suspected the matter was not altogether correct, and had the youthful sinners locked up. O'Brien acknowledges that the horse was stolen from a farmer named Samuel Fye, living near St. Charles, in Butler county, but Kareney protests his innocence.

programme the delegates from the Congressional districts assembled early in the morning to select each a Vice President and a member of the following committees: Credentials, Permanent Organization, Resolutions, and Committee to Select Members of the State Central Committee. The First and Second districts wrestled at rooms 123 and 125 Nell House.

By 11 o'clock the crowd was making its way to the Opera-house, but it was much after that hour when Mr. Walling, of Pickaway, called the Convention to order.

Immediately after the temporary organization, the Congressional district delegations reported the names of the committeemen and Vice Presidents.

An Application for Office.

PITTSBURG, June 17.—There are quite a number of sporting men in the city, all suriously indignant at Rooke for not coming to time.

Telegrams were freely passed between this city and New York last might and to-day on the subject, but it had been well understeed for the last three days that Rooke did not mean to fight.

Allen and his friends go to the ring, where they will await the required time for Rooke, and then claim the stakes.

Another Fight on the Border.

Galveston, Texas, June 17.—The News' San Antonio special says: Five robbers, of Leon Springs, last Sunday, proceeded to Comtoit, took two horses and passed through Kerrville, about noon Monday, taking two more horses. Captain Schreiner, of Kerrville, assembled a few men of his former minute company, and gave chase. He came up with them forty miles above Kerrville, and demanded a surrender. The robbers replied by firing at the minute men, and then cashier if he wants to find out who I am." "Have you made your application yet?" "No." said the man, "I am running on my personal merits." "That's the kind of a man we want for the post," said the officer, handing the man a piece of paper and a pencil, and soon after he took from the man an application addressed "Dear Mair," and setting forth his ability as collector, and sobriety and veracity as a man. In the list of official appointments the name does not appear, and the city is compelled to bear, perhaps, an irreparable loss.

The editor of the Tribune understands the amenities of journalistic life, and puts them in practice too. When the World, misled by the error of a phonographer, makes him the hero of a humorous parody, he don't fly off into a passion, nor wax sarcastic, after the style of certain other cotemporaries; he simply republishes the parody, prefacing it by a tew kindly words, and by this gracelial act at once disarms his foes and delights his friends. ights his friends,

Old Zacharlah Jackson, of Rocky Gulcb, Nevada, is a "Forty-Niner," who has been through the mill. The other day he hobbled up to a party of new-comers, and observed: "Tend to yer bizness, boys, and ye'fl be all right. I've been here nigh thirty year, and have been lynched, shot at, stabbed, knocked down, thrown off a mountain, and mopped around generally, but I'm here to-day, biggerin' a box car."

There were five sewing machine agents in Leighton, Iowa, last week, and when the terrified inhabitants telegraphed to Governor Carpenter for troops, he sent back word that he could not send any military, but would come down and talk to the agents. Then Leighton just emptied itself when it heard that and broke for the woods.—Burlington Hawkeye.

"It is well enough for you to name your boy Elias," said Aunt Hersibah, "but for gracious goodness' sake don't name him Alias, cause the Aliases are always a'cuttis' up bad. Here's Alias Jones, Alias Brown, Alias Thompson, Alias One-Eyed Jack, all been took up for robbin' and stealin'."

Old lady (who sleeps badly)—"Now, Mary, if I should want to light my candle, are the matches there?".

Mary—"Yes, ma'am, there's wan,"
Old lady—"One! Wy, if it misses fire or won't light—"
Mary—"Oh, divil a fear of it, ma'am. Sure I thried it."

The most singularly-named man in New York is Walter R. T. Joues—the middle initials standing for Restored Twice. His parents first had a son called Walter, who died. Another boy was born to them, and christened after the first, with an addition, Walter Restored. He died, and a third male child was born, and received the name he new bears, Walter Restored Twice Jones.
